COMMUNION MEDITATION “THE MEASURELESS GIFT OF GOD”

“—for it is not by measure that he gives the Spirit.”
John 3:34b

One of the benefits of a close and serious study of the Bible is the discovery of hitherto unrecognized passages which are meaningful and illuminating. One such gem is the second clause of John 3:34, setting forth in bright simplicity the abundance of God's outpoured spirit upon Jesus, and upon us. In some versions, the clause appears stronger in a sentence of its own. “For God giveth not the Spirit by measure.”

The overflowing abundance of God's mercy and grace toward us is one of the recurring themes of the New Testament. Our Lord himself announces his purpose as giving “abundant life.” St. Paul, recognizing that sin abounds, declares that “grace much more abounds.” On the Day of Pentecost the Spirit of God overflowed in irresistible power.

Some Christians claim what they call the “second blessing,” or a “second work of grace” in their lives. Their error is not in believing that God continues to bless us, but in applying a measure to the measureless grace of God.

“LOOK UP AND LIVE”

“Truly, truly I say to you, unless one is born from above, he cannot see the kingdom of God.”

John 3:3

The King James Version has Jesus saying to Nicodemus, “Except a man be born again,” and this has become our common interpretation. The original Greek word translated again may be translated anew or from above. Three pre-King James Bibles use these variants: Tyndale, anew; and both the Great Bible (1540) and the Bishops’ Bible (1568) from above.

For our text we are using the easily allowable from above form, adding to it verse 14 of Chapter 3, “As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so must the Son of man be lifted up.” In the Old Testament story afflicted ones who looked up at the elevated serpent were healed.

One of the wise and penetrating sayings of Sister Corita is “To understand is to stand under, which is to look up to, which is the only way to understand.”

One of the great impacts the Gospel of John gives is our theme, “Look Up and Live.”

“FAITH WITHOUT PICTURES”

“No one has ever seen God.” John 1:18a

Our Bible was written in times when men's concepts of space and time were limited and naive. For many of us our faith is still set in this naive image structure. Far too often essential faith is abandoned when one finds this outmoded cosmological housing of his faith no longer tenable.

Those of us who wish to retain our faith and grow into it as God allows and our souls demand must face the question of how essential the old pictures are in a workable faith and a defensible theology. This sermon will face up to this problem, so real to so many. It will suggest also that those who cling to the old housing of their faith are left defenseless before the honest and inquiring modern mind. The sermon will propose the possibility of a larger faith structure in which essentials are not lost but actually strengthened. The expanding universe enlarges our concepts of deity, increases our sense of the mystery of creation, and provides us with some feel of infinity.

"THE DOORS OF LIFE"

"I am the door; if any one enters by me, he will be saved, and will go in and out and find pasture."
John 10:9

We face in life many kinds of decisions. Let us call these decisions "the doors of life." Our movement after facing and passing through the doors can take us in several directions.

This sermon will largely deal with the "spiritual doors" of life. John paints for us a picture or a parable by saying, "I am the door; if any one enters by me, he will be saved . . ."

The parable becomes clearer as we see it in relation to the shepherd and his flock of sheep. Then, as we apply it, we find the parable more distinct as we see it in the picture of Christ at the door knocking.

Finally, similar parallels of John's account are found in Revelation 3:8 and 3:20. It is helpful to compare and to realize how our understanding of John's account is enlarged.

May we find spiritual direction as we face the decisions of "the doors of life!"

Almighty and most merciful Father, We have erred and strayed from thy ways like lost sheep. We have followed too much the devices and desires of our own hearts. We have offended against thy holy laws. We have left undone those things which we ought to have done; And there is no health in us. But thou, O Lord, have mercy upon us, miserable offenders. Spare thou them, O God, which confess their faults. Restore thou them that are penitent; According to thy promises declared unto mankind in Christ Jesus our Lord. And grant, O most merciful Father, for his sake, That we may hereafter live a godly, righteous, and sober life; To the glory of thy holy Name. Amen.
