COMMUNION MEDITATION

“ONLY TO TOUCH THE HEM OF HIS GARMENT”

“[They] besought him that they might only touch the hem of his garment: and as many as touched were made perfectly whole.” Matthew 14:36.

In the very nature of the religious experience we must be content with minimal realizations. God does not make himself and his way fully known to us. Indeed the distance between God and man is so great that man is capable of receiving and appropriating the divine revelation only in relatively small proportions. Our discontent with this unbridgeable distance is the root of the first temptation of Adam and Eve, and also the explanation of the Tower of Babel project.

Deeply understood, this limit on man's mystical receptivity appears as actually affirmative rather than negative. The fact that there is something beyond and always something more awaiting our realization is indeed an essential dynamic of a vital faith. There is a certain divine “teasing” of us that invites and challenges us upward, even as Mount Everest, “because it is there.”

The verse of scripture above is one of two where suppliants were content only to “touch the hem” of our Lord's garment. These episodes and the accompanying recognitions are used to support the large observation that God's grace is so very powerful that for us human beings, indeed “a little bit goes a long way.”

“THE MAN WHO CHANGED GOD’S MIND”

Scripture: The Story of Noah — Genesis 6-9.

The summer is blessed in the absence of so many special days and seasons demanding our observation. The preacher is more free to gather his themes from over the whole range of the Bible. Many Old Testament themes and texts are promised in the summer's preaching.

The story of Noah and the Flood leaves us with certain imperishable heritages. It includes two of the basic concepts of Holy Scripture, the Covenant People and the Saving Remnant. Three great symbols of permanence: the Flood itself as event of Divine judgment, the Ark as means of survival or a way of salvation, and the man Noah himself who found favor in the sight of God and became the bridge person, or the remnant, out of whose life and work would come the new day.

The stand-out point of the story for me, and hence the primary emphasis of the sermon, is the intervention of a man between the wrath of God and the failures of men. This is a major theme of the Bible, as instanced here in Noah, Abraham praying for Sodom, Moses asking to be “blotted out” if God could not forgive, and the Cross of Christ stark against the sky.

The question is: Does God still do business this way? Can one life be socially redemptive? If so, then we ask where is that man among us now?

O God, through whose great mercy we find a welcome when we turn to thee, bestow a measure of that mercy upon us now as we make our confessions to thee. We know that thou hast created us in thine own image, but confess that we have chosen our own patterns of life. We know that thou hast made us only a little lower than the angels, but acknowledge that we have feared such heights of spiritual realization. We know that we are all called to mission and service, but regret in thy presence that we have been slow to respond, fearing lest thou claim too much of our lives. Forgive us, we pray, and restore us to places of favor and usefulness in thy household and kingdom; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

"AN ANCIENT PARABLE OF MODERN MAN"

The Tower of Babel, Genesis 11:1-9

The story of the Tower of Babel is one of the more interesting of the early accounts of the beginnings of things as we find these in the book of Genesis. Like others of these stories, this one is remarkable for its understanding of human nature, especially for its insight into man's strong tendency to self-exaltation. With undoubted achievement ability, an endowment of the Creator, man begins to presume an inordinate self-sufficiency, to the point of encompassing even heaven in his own plans and construction.

It is passing strange how old stories retain their validity for all time. What better parable of modern man than this one. Here we are, on this globe, piling achievement upon achievement, penetrating the innermost secrets of nature, conquering diseases, traveling faster than sound, and really assuming that "nothing we propose to do will be impossible for us." But before we enjoy our self-idolatry too much, we'd better look again. Wars abound in the earth, men still hate and kill, children are neglected, and evil is rampant. What's really going on here? May be we aren't suppose to "do our own thing" all the way to heaven and back! May be we have some inescapable limitations! May be we are still subjects of a Sovereign Lord! Worth thinking about? "Come, let us reason together."

We confess that we have sometimes done wrong in acting too hastily, and sometimes have sinned in not acting at all. VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL BEGINS MONDAY, JUNE 16

One of the most important opportunities for the Christian education of children is our Vacation Church School. This affords thirty hours of concentrated time equal to more than half a year of Sunday School time. The fact that it is daily makes the experience more meaningful. Many hours have gone into preparation for this event. We trust that our families will support it. Hours will be from 9:00 A.M. to 12:00 Noon, June 16-27. Courses offered are as follows:

Nursery I (Children born in 1965. Please do not bring younger children—no care will be provided)—"God's Plan for Me"—Room 207.

Kindergarten II (Children born in 1964)—"Friends Around Me"—Room 103.

Kindergarten I (Children born in 1963)—"Friends Around Me"—Room 104.

Elementary I-II—"My Family in the Community"—Room 304.

Elementary III-IV—"Bible Lands and Times"—Room 313.

Elementary V-VI—"Paul, Man with a Mission"—Youth Center.

“ON DOING ONE’S OWN THING”

“In those days there was no king in Israel: every man did what was right in his own eyes.”

Judges 21:25

The phrase is new but the idea and practice of “doing one’s own thing” is as old as mankind and as deep as human nature. It seems inevitable that there is tension between the individual and his assorted groups. Our social order and progress depend upon a continual balancing of these forces. Pure individualism produces anarchy. To make the group, state, church, or whatever, the be-all or end-all of our human endeavor means repression, slavery, statism, totalitarianism.

Some kind of hierarchical arrangement seems necessary for order and progress, even in a democratic society. The essential democratic test of such a system is its fluidity and openness. If the levels of the hierarchy are fixed, as in any caste system, so that one may not freely move to other and higher levels, the system doesn’t stand the test. Ghetto living is not location but confinement to a location and a condition. The innate individualism of human beings is inevitably dynamite to such rigidity.

This sermon will take an ancient text for a springboard and attempt to face a present concern in a “contemporary” and “relevant” manner.

O God, who hast not left us to our own devices, but dost ever watch over all our goings and comings, condescend to us now, we pray, and hear our confessions. Thou hast set before us a strait and narrow way, but we have chosen the broad and easy road. Thou hast given us a foundation of rock on which to build, but we have built upon the sand. Thou hast offered us a kingdom not of this world, but we have loved too much the pleasures of this life. Continue to hold us in thy mercy, we beseech thee, and claim us at last for thine own; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

OUR PREACHER THIS SUNDAY —

We are pleased to have The Reverend Robert B. Chapman, Jr., our newly assigned District Superintendent, preach at our Morning Services this Sunday. Rev. Chapman was born in Andalusia, Alabama, received his college degrees at Emory University and Candler School of Theology at Emory. He and Mrs. Chapman have five children: Mrs. Karl Kortemeier (Barbara), Mrs. Paul Johnson (Mary Lynn), Robert B., III, student at Emory University, Esther, to enter Florida Southern College this fall, and David, a seventh grader.

Rev. Chapman's appointments in the Florida Conference have been: Webster, Service Chaplaincy, Redlands-Florida City, Hialeah, Avondale, First Church, Fort Pierce, First Church, Fort Myers, and now the Tallahassee District.

We extend the Chapman family a cordial welcome to the Tallahassee District. Trinity Church will continue its support of the work of the District and Conference, and of our District Superintendent and our Bishop.

SUCCESS BREEDS SUCCESS

More than 75% of the families of Trinity support the Church Budget. This is an unusually high proportion, and causes us, rather than to be satisfied, to raise the percentage higher. Our Committee on Finance calls on every family to provide regular support.

MUSIC NOTES

The choir is where the action is: Come join us this Wednesday at 7:30 P.M. in the choir room.

First rehearsal of the instrumental ensemble in the choir room this Sunday afternoon, June 29th, at 3:30 P.M.

Youth Singers (High School and College): Meet this Sunday afternoon at 4:30 P.M. in the choir room to begin work on a folk-cantata — "A New Kind of Dream."

CONSIDER THE BANK ORDER SYSTEM

Approximately one-third of our Budget comes in through our Bank Order System. This system works very simply. You sign an order to our bank, authorizing them to transfer from your account to the Church at chosen periods a stated amount. We do the rest. You may, of course, alter or stop this Bank-Order at any time.

FOSTERS IN NASHVILLE THIS SUNDAY

According to their schedule, Dr. and Mrs. Foster will be in Nashville, Tennessee, this Sunday. On Monday and Tuesday, Dr. Foster will attend meetings of the General Conference Committee on the Publishing House. While in Nashville, Mrs. Foster will visit relatives and friends.
