“ALL OR NOTHING”

Some of us do not really enjoy the Service of Holy Communion. It is meaningless for us, and it becomes boring. It is wordy, very wordy, and therefore we daydream and our bodies fidget. The only comfort comes from the fact that it does not occur except once a month.

We find in Paul's writings (I Cor. 11:27-29) these words of advice:

Whoever, therefore, eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be guilty of profaning the body and blood of the Lord. Let a man examine himself, and so eat of the bread and drink of the cup. For any one who eats and drinks without discerning the body eats and drinks judgment upon himself.

Therefore, each of us must examine ourselves before we move to the Table. And we should recognize what the bread and wine stand for. If it be Jesus who lived, died, and arose for our spiritual well-being, then it behooves us to act totally with love toward Him and toward His people. It is either giving all or nothing in a commitment to our Lord.

"AN APPROACH TO PRAYER"

"Pray without ceasing." I Thessalonians 5:17.

Most of us do not have what could reasonably be described as a full and rich prayer life. It appears that most people pray only occasionally, spasmodically, and in times of crisis.

Is it possible that our basic understanding of prayer is at fault? Could it be that this basic conceptual error lies in our thinking of prayer as act rather than attitude? Do we not consider prayer in isolation rather than as an integral part of the fabric of faith?

Prayer begins with God and not with man's need. It is communication between God and man; it is walking with God; it is surrender rather than demand; it is openness to the presence and power of God; it is power, but power at the disposal of God, not man.

The apostle admonishes us to "pray without ceasing" (KJV) or "pray constantly" (RSV). Does he mean to pray continually or continuously? Certainly both, but it is not likely that we shall really pray regularly unless we have a continuous awareness of our sustaining relationship with God.

WHAT ABSENCE FROM WORSHIP DOES

When you stay away from Church you let the preacher down, and you can be sure he feels it.

When you stay away from Church you let yourself down, and someday you will feel it.

When you stay away from Church you let God's kingdom down, and it will be weakened through your absence.

“LISTEN, DAD! LISTEN, SON!”

“O my son Absalom, my son, my son Absalom! Would I had died instead of you. O Absalom, my son, my son.”

II Samuel 18:38.

Surely these are among the most poignant words of Holy Scripture. They are the lament of King David upon hearing of the death of his rebel son Absalom.

Absalom was not only a rebel and deeply estranged from his father, he was also endowed with an exceeding rich head of hair, which he wore very long, getting a hair cut only once a year. (II Samuel 14:25, 26.) This long hair seems to have contributed to his tragic death. Seeking escape on mule back after a defeat in battle, he got caught by the hair in the low limbs of a giant oak tree. The mule kept going, leaving Absalom “hanging between heaven and earth.”

King David's general, Joab by name, and a ready representative of all things established, discovered Absalom in this predicament, and forthwith personally thrust three darts into the young man's heart. Ten young men, personal armor-bearers to Joab, completed the job of killing the handsome and self-willed rebel prince. But King David loved him still, and we can almost hear his broken-hearted lament.

What a story for Father's Day! There are sermons in it somewhere, and we will try to find one of them.

"THREE FUNNY FELLOWS"

"If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of your hand, O king. But if not, be it known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods or worship the golden image which you have set up." Daniel 3:17, 18.

Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego — three funny fellows! Well, at least their names sound a bit funny. Their heroic defiance of King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon, who had commanded them to serve his gods and worship a golden image, was far from funny.

Their remarkable courage is caught up in the brief phrase, "But if not," which, rightly understood, interpreted, and declared, could well become the principle and the motto of all who in days of moral deterioration choose righteousness.

Let's face it, fellow Christians. We are about to be engulfed by a tide of ethical confusion, moral relativism, excessive individualism and wild libertinism, which, if allowed to run rampant, will destroy us. It is not just our Christian way of life which is at stake, but the essential moral fabric of our civilization.

It had happened before in human history, and we discern a cyclic pattern of reaction and return to moral rectitude, even rigidity and puritanism. There seems to be a built-in level of disgust from which reaction sets in.

But those of us who bear the name of Christian cannot afford to sit around and wait for the automatic reaction to set in. Perhaps it is not so automatic, and the forces of righteous response are awaiting a starter. Could it be you?
