COMMUNION MEDITATION

“THE AUTHORITY OF SINCERITY”

“For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.” Matthew 7:29.

According to all the externals of the situation the scribes, not Jesus, really had the authority. But the internal realities did not correspond to these externals. The scribes had the title, but Jesus had the truth. They had the profession, but he had the reality. They had the appointment, but he had the people.

It appears from the Synoptic Gospels that to know Jesus was to believe in him, and that small beginnings of interest in him led at last to deep loyalties. He finally came to mean so much more to his followers than they expected when they first went with him. They began by calling him “Rabbi” and ended calling him “Lord.” As it was then, it is now, and ever shall be.

How to account for our Lord’s strange and immense power over men? As far as position and human recognition go, he actually began with handicaps. “Is not this the carpenter?” The answer has to be that this power was inherent in the person, in his bearing, his manner, in his very presence. To use a word in current great use, it was in his authenticity. More easily understood words of similar meaning are genuineness and sincerity.

"THE NEW MAN FOR THE NEW CHURCH"

"Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; the old has passed away, behold, the new has come."

II Corinthians 5:17.

New Life for Trinity! New life throughout the Church — in the pulpit and the pew, in the choir and in the class, in the parsonage and in the parish, in the heart and in the head. God give us new life!

No doubt about it, God is ready and all resources — indeed greater than we can ever receive — are available. Heaven touches earth; angels ascend and descend on Jacob's ladder; Pentecost awaits man's obedience; "Behold I stand at the door and knock."

No renewal in the Church without renewal in our own hearts. No New Church without new men. "So trite," you say, and "old stuff." But still true, and inescapable, and demanding. "We need a revival, Lord, beginning with me." "Not my brother, not my sister, but it's me, O Lord."

The Apostle knew it well. He knew it because he was intelligent and wise. But more deeply because of his own great experience. He was a man "in Christ" and he knew that his life was a new creation.

"BEHOLD, THE LAMB OF GOD"

The sermon for this Passion Sunday is cast into a pattern previously announced of "Old Testament Questions and New Testament Answers."

The Old Testament question is that of the boy Isaac to his father Abraham when together they set out for the place where, in obedience to the command of God, Abraham was to offer Issac as a burnt offering, "Behold, the fire and the wood; but where is the lamb?" (Genesis 22:1-14) Abraham replied, "God will provide himself the lamb for a burnt offering."

Setting this episode in the larger context of the Biblical Drama of Redemption, we find the tremendous answer in the words of John the Baptist, "Behold, the Lamb of God!" (John 1:36) Placing this Old Testament question and this New Testament answer together bring us to the very heart of this great drama, and presents us with a message almost too great to deliver — or to receive.

Whatever be one's doctrine of the atonement, we all recognize the centrality of the Cross in our Christian faith. The crucifixion is man's cruel and sinful doing, we all know. But we sense that in some grand and mysterious way it is also God's doing, and declares his everlasting love to us. Abraham spoke far more than he knew when he said, "God will provide himself the Lamb."

"THE THRUST OF FAITH"

In response to the current widespread criticism of the Church — and even attacks upon its integrity — those of us who are deeply identified with its life and work are tempted to react sharply and come quickly to its defense. Although the emotional element of this reaction is understandable, its wisdom as strategy should be tested. Quiet and prayerful thought will reveal more realistic and demanding fronts on which to confront our opposition.

The first question to ask is whether this opposition is to the Church as institution or to essential Christianity itself. Also we must consider the identification of the Church with the Establishment and the consequent inevitability of our sharing the attacks upon that large and nebulous conglomerate. The whole situation is complex and simple analysis does not suffice.

Some of us have made our choice, as difficult as it may be in actual confrontation to follow, to defend Christianity and its gospel rather than the institution.

Our rather plain cue is found in the New Testament. The beginning of the Christian movement was in the preaching and hearing of the gospel. The institution came on afterward, as form following substance. As much as we may love the Church we remember that it remains the means to a greater end. In simple words, we may believe that if we rightly and effectively declare the gospel, the institution will be the more easily managed.

"IF A MAN DIE!"

"If a man die, shall he live again?" Job 14:14.

"Because I live, you shall live also." John 14:19.

Following again this Easter Sunday the pattern of Old Testament Questions and New Testament Answers, we take from the book of Job one of man's very oldest questions, "If a man die, shall he live again?"

Birth and death are the two universals of human life. By a strange gift of creation, we never become quite accustomed to either as event, and respond with wonder and awe, and, to death, with fear and dread.

Our question was certainly thousands of years earlier than Job. It must have been personal at first, becoming philosophical, and then one of the roots of religion.

In one way and another man has contrived affirmative answers to the question. We have thought of a minimum immortality, as living past death, in our children, in our works, and in our influence; a diffused immortality as in the submergence of our individuality in the Over-Soul; a chain immortality, as in re-incarnation or the transmigration of souls. We have arguments from nature, from philosophy, and from the stubborn human insistence that death doesn't end all.

All these help — a little — but for us Christians we turn to the New Testament, and find in its story the answer for which we look. So we find here full answers to one of man's oldest questions.

There will be no Sunday Evening Chapel Service this Sunday. All other Sunday Evening activities are also called off for this one Sunday.

The flowers in the Sanctuary today are placed to the glory of God and in loving memory of Dr. George H. McCain and Barry McCain by the family

MEMORIAL BOOK FOR SUNDAY

This Sunday the Memorial Book in the Church Narthex, which contains the Memorials and Gifts given to the glory of God and in honor and in memory of loved ones and friends is open to A Church Chancel Window.

OUR EASTER SCHEDULE OF SERVICES

Our Easter Sunday Morning Schedule of Service will be the same as on other Sunday mornings.

SPECIAL BAPTISMAL SERVICES

A special service for the baptism of infants and younger children will be held in the Sanctuary on Easter Sunday at 2:30 P.M. Those who wish to present their children at this time should call the Church Office and give certain data for the records.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICES

In Waller Park, 6:15 A.M.
St. Theresa, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Carter, 6:30 A.M.

NEW MEMBERS RECEIVED

In a great service on Palm Sunday Evening sixty persons were received into membership in our Church. Of these fifty-three were from our Confirmation Classes. Names and addresses of all these are listed elsewhere in this issue of Tidings.

OUR APPRECIATION

To all of those who have rendered extra services during the busy Lenten and Holy Week season: their work in many areas — music, ushering, Holy Week breakfasts, Maundy Thursday Holy Communion, Good Friday Services — has been generous and gracious. "Of such is the kingdom."

NO HOLY COMMUNION ON APRIL 5

Because of the nearness in time of the Holy Communion Service on Maundy Thursday, March 26, our regular First Sunday Service of Holy Communion will not be held. Our next Sunday Morning Communion Service will be on May 3.

EVERY MEMBER VISITATION

Our organization for our Every Member Visitation must have Indians as well as Chiefs. Please do not turn down the captain who calls on you to be a worker in this essential project.

THERE'S A BIG DAY COMING!

Sunday, April 19, is the Big Day — the Day of Visitation, the Day of Confrontation, the Day of Commitment, the Day of Discovery, the Day of Decision. Shall it be forward or retreat for Trinity Church? Shall it be New Life for us or shall it be limiting and hurting? Twelve hundred — and more — answers determine the outcome. You are one of these!

A PRINCIPAL OF GIVING

Among the principles of good Christian stewardship is percentage giving, preferably on the basis of the historic tithe, or 10%. On the basis of this principle, as one's income goes up or down, one's giving to the Church varies accordingly. How has your family income varied in recent years? Has your giving varied with it? Inflation? Yes, but remember the Church program feels it too.

GENERAL CONFERENCE

A special session of the General Conference will be held in St. Louis April 20-24. While this is not a regular session and will not do extensive legislation, it is expected that many proposals for legislation will be made.

NO POST EASTER LET DOWN!

We are involved in a very heavy schedule from now until Annual Conference the first week of June. There can be no let down. Everyone to his post!
