Dear Editor:-

I believe I have written to you before to express my appreciation for your efforts in sending out such a fine news bulletin from Trinity so that is in the nature of a repeat for me. I am sure I express the feelings of each man in the service who is fortunate enough to be included on your mailing list when I say that it is always a pleasure to get each issue of the Bulletin because it takes me back home and among friends of long standing.

The issue of Dec. 14th arrived here on the 27th and I read it through immediately to see what the other boys were doing and what changes had taken place since receiving the last bulletin. Santa Claus was most generous to me this year which helped greatly to make Christmas very enjoyable considering the fact I am so far away from home.

Cheever Lewis dropped in to see me the other day but probably won't see him much longer as he is expecting a change of scenery any day. Also had a nice visit with Buck Clements; he has certainly been around since joining the navy and will certainly have some wonderful experiences to relate when he returns home. We are having more action every day in this theater and naturally all of us over here are gratified with the results thus far; just hope the good work can be continued and even increased because it will surely mean that all of us will be able to come back home soon.

I wish for each and everyone of you responsible for the publication and distribution of the Bulletin a happy and prosperous New Year and may God's richest blessings be with you for this splendid work.

Very sincerely yours,

Bob
